

C.S. Lewis slates banquet theme 'Together We Grow'

Author will give keynote address for annual fund-raiser

Oregon author William Young will give the keynote address Saturday at C.S. Lewis Academy's annual fall banquet, with the theme "Together We Grow."

Young is the author of "The Shack," a recent theological novel about a man suffering from loss who spends a week in a shack with God.

The banquet will begin at 5:45 p.m. at the Tualatin Country Club. The event will also include student and video presentations and a message from Dr. Wade Witherspoon, the school's superintendent.

The event will serve as a fund-raiser and an opportunity for individuals considering Christian education to be introduced to the K-12 school.

Attendance is free. Reservations are required and can be made on-line at www.cslewisacademy.com or by calling 503-538-0114.